PRINCE

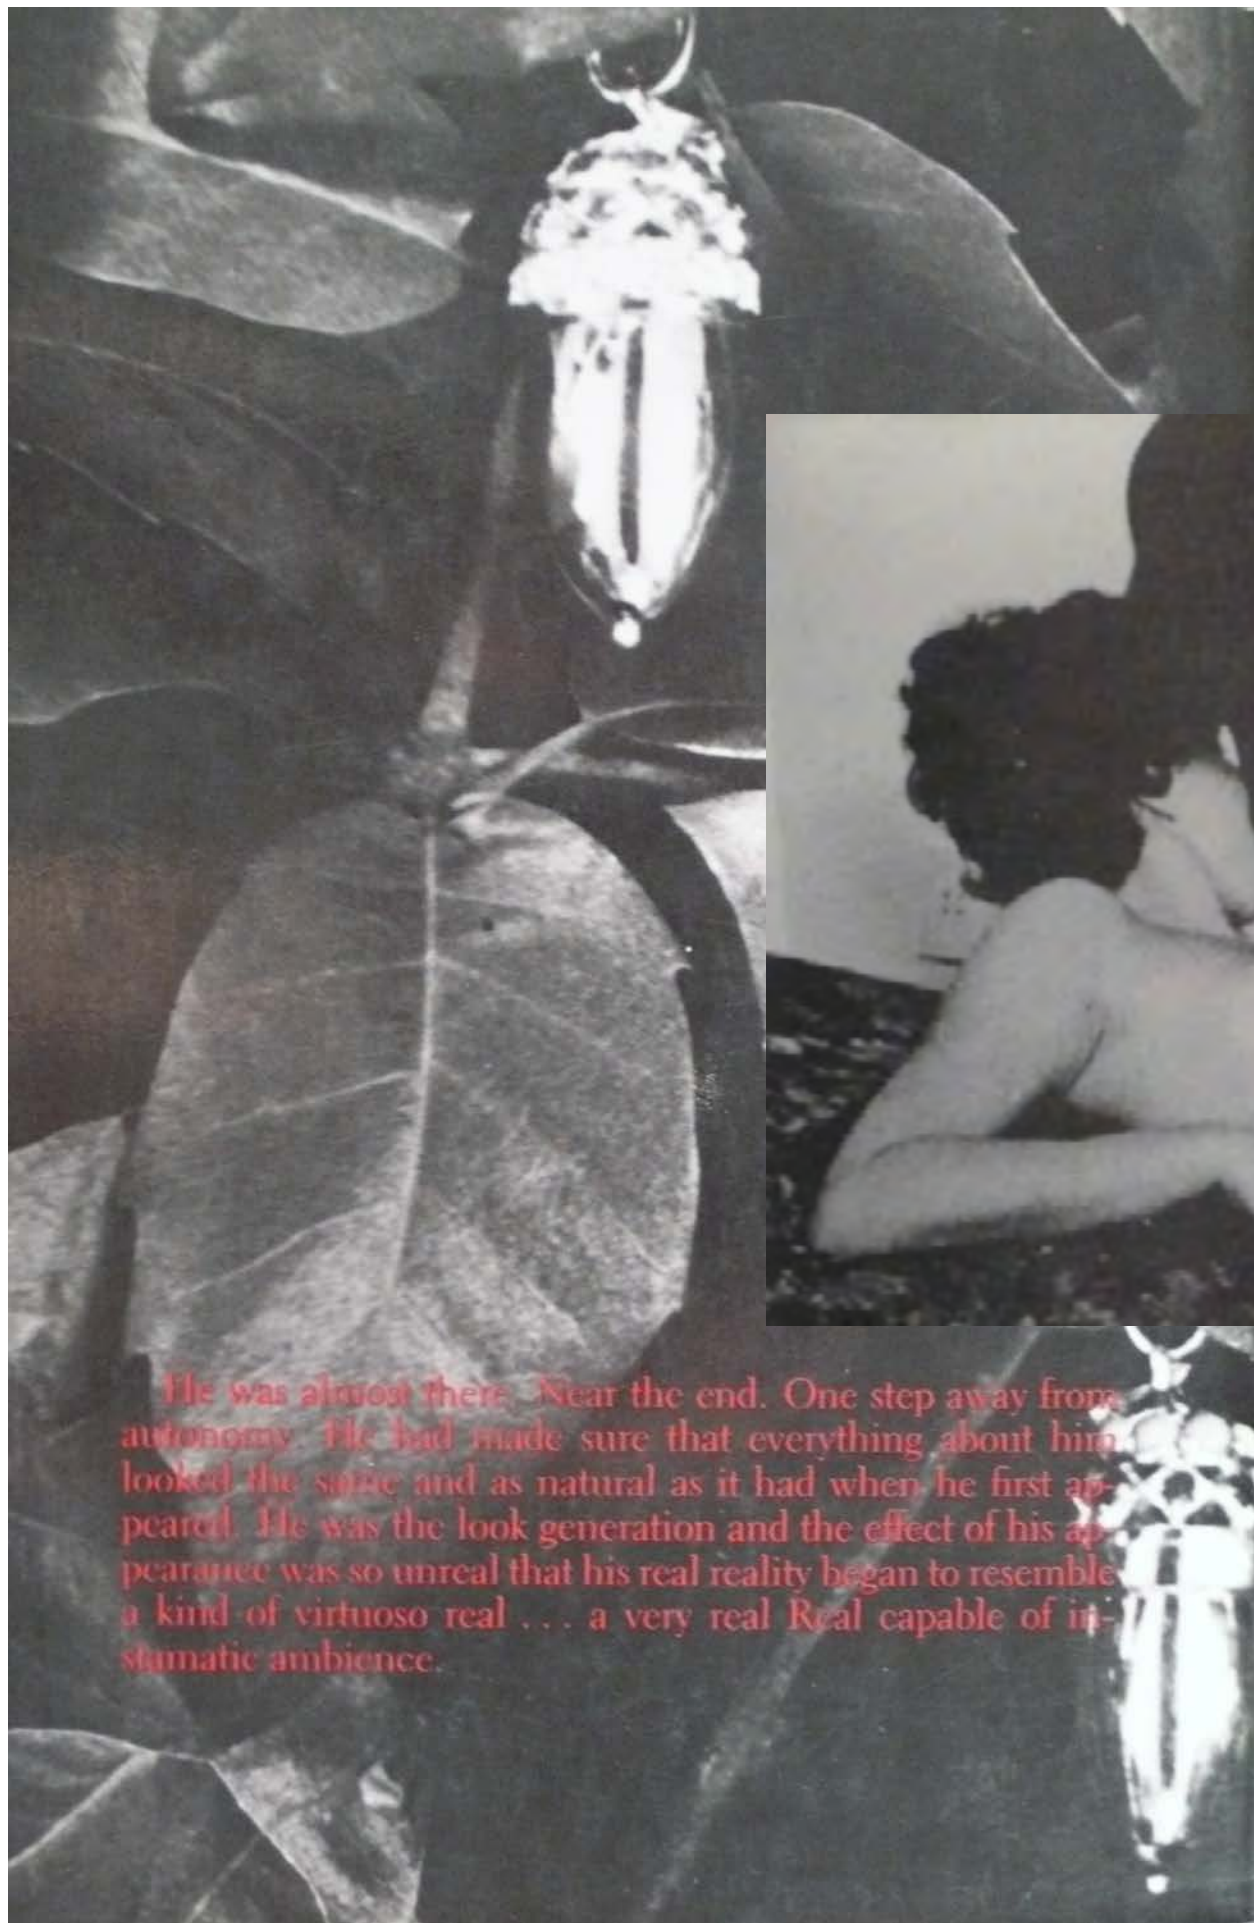

WHO
? IS ?
RICHARD PRINCE

He was almost there. Near the end. One step away from autonomy. He had made sure that everything about him looked the same and as natural as it had when he first appeared. He was the look generation and the effect of his appearance was so unreal that his real reality began to resemble a kind of virtuoso real . . . a very real Real capable of instantaneous ambience.

*I would rather have a girlfriend. Most people would rather have a cowboy.
